

Concurrent Breakout Sessions: 10:30 AM – 11:15 AM

AWS Essentials

Room: 152 B

Description: AWS Essentials Course and will take you through a step-by-step deep-dive into AWS core services such as Compute, Storage, Database and Networking. At the end of the session, you will be able to build scalable and secure applications on the AWS Cloud.

Speaker: Nathan Hast, Technical Trainer, Amazon Web Services

AWS GovCloud (US) Fundamentals: Past, Present, and Future

Room: 145 A/B

Description: Come learn all about our AWS GovCloud (US) region. Discover the features and benefits of this government-oriented community cloud, learn about exciting new features, and get a sneak peek into where we are headed in the future.

Speakers:

- CJ Moses, Director of Public Sector Programs, Amazon Web Services
- Adam Clater, Director of Cloud Strategy & Solution Architect Manager, U.S. Civilian & National Security, RedHat

Outcome Broker: Data Driven Innovation

Room: 146 B/C

Description: An overarching global conversation about open data innovation. This session highlights how democratizing access to information drives innovation and greater impact.

Speakers:

- Frank DiGiammarino, General Manager Innovation and Global Expansion, Amazon Web Services
- Cordell Schachter, Chief Technology Officer, NY Department of Transportation

The Data Center Doesn't Matter

Room: 147 A/B

Description: This panel will highlight the various ways organizations have reduced their reliance on physical infrastructure and accelerated their move to the Cloud. You will hear different perspectives on specific workloads and migrations strategies that have delivered impact and results for the organization.

Speakers:

- Moderator: Max Peterson, Director, Partners, Capture and Contracts, Amazon Web Services
- James Clippinger, Senior Technical Director, Global Technical Services, MarkLogic
- Alan Dare, District Manager, USPS Cloud, NetApp
- Aaron Klein, Founder and Chief Operating Officer, CloudCheckr Inc.
- Alan Chhabra, Area Vice President, WW Cloud/DCA Specialists, BMC Software
- Bill Duncan, Director, Amtrak
- Steve Orrin, Chief Technologist, Intel Corp

Concurrent Breakout Sessions: 10:30 AM – 11:15 AM

Federal IT Reform: Enabling the Transition to Cloud Computing to Save Taxpayer Dollars

Room: 146 A

Description: This panel of experts from the U.S. House of Representatives and U.S. Senate and industry will discuss proposals for federal IT reforms, the status of key bills, and what can be done to enable federal agencies to get more mission for the money and drive agility and innovation through IT investments. This panel will discuss legislation such as the Federal IT Acquisition and Reform Act, the FY2015 Defense Authorization bill, and potential changes to Federal Acquisition Regulations (FAR) that could impact the adoption of commercial cloud services throughout the federal government.

Speakers:

- Moderator: A.R. "Trey" Hodgkins, Senior Vice President, Information Technology Industry Council
- Richard Beutel, Senior Council, Acquisition Policy, Government Oversight and Reforms Committee, U.S. House of Representatives
- Kevin Cummins, Senior Legislative Assistant, U.S. Senator Tom Udall
- Angela Styles, Partner, Crowell and Moring
- Aaron Wasserman, Military Legislative Assistant, U.S. Representative Derek Kilmer

Hands-On Labs with AWS

Room: 152 A

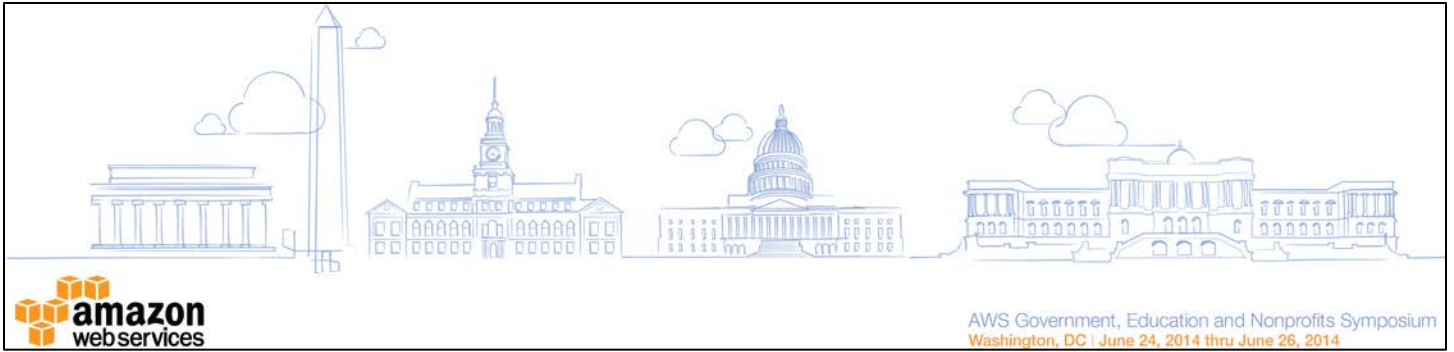

Description: AWS self-paced labs provide an opportunity to use the AWS console in a variety of pre-designed scenarios and common use cases, giving you hands-on practice in a live AWS environment to help you gain confidence working with AWS. Whether you are new, or already have experience working with AWS services, you have flexibility to choose from topics and products about which you want to learn more. AWS self-paced labs were designed by AWS subject matter experts, and each lab includes step-by-step instructions to help you complete the lab.

How Public Sector Entities are Advancing Their Security and Governance Capabilities with AWS

Room: 151 A/B

Description: The session will cover how the public sector is advancing their security and governance capabilities with AWS.

Speaker: Chad Woolf, Director of AWS Risk & Compliance, Amazon Web Services

Concurrent Breakout Sessions: 10:30 AM – 11:15 AM

Welcome to the AWS Cloud

Room: 150 A/B

Description: Steven Halliwell, General Manager, Amazon Web Services, will provide an Introduction to AWS, Why Organizations are choosing AWS, What Workloads are appropriate on AWS, and How Organizations are getting started with AWS. Steve will discuss what many AWS public sector customers and partners are doing with and saying about AWS. Lastly, Steve will talk about various strategies for how customers and partners can get started with AWS.

Speaker: Steven Halliwell, Director - State, Local, and Education, Amazon Web Services